

Institutional Distinctiveness

2017-18

This year, our institution set a motto for the expected desirable behavioral change among our students through some distinguishable activities in and outside the college. Our aim is to help the students to be the master in all walks of life. Our students conducted various programmes for their own upliftment and for the various stakeholders as well, and, these are in tune with the motto being set already at the beginning of the academic year.

Motto of the year: Teacher the initiator

Title of the programme: Say 'no' to junk food

Mode of Presentation: Video presentation, Awareness class, Folk song recital, distribution of homely food.

Beneficiaries: BEd students and community members

Reflections: The effort put in by the students to create awareness among the audience to have homely food in their daily routine was highly recommendable. The mode of presentation used by students like folk songs and videos highlighted their intention. The effort put forward by them in preparing homely food stating the nutritional value and cultural significance was noteworthy.

Title of the programme: School muttam, Oushadha muttam (Programme on importance on medicinal plants)

Mode of Presentation: Awareness class, preparation of Herbal(medicinal) garden

Beneficiaries: School students

Reflections: In order to justify the motto of this year- teacher the initiator- our students have taken effort to be distinctive. This time, they have initiated their act in the school where they practiced their teaching session by selecting a programme which could reflect the rich cultural heritage of our nation. They motivated young students to start cultivation of herbal plants in their homes.

Title of the programme: Vegetable farming at home

Mode of Presentation: Chart exhibition, Awareness class, Video presentation, Distribution of seeds

Beneficiaries: BEd students and school students

Reflections: In order to justify the motto, our students have taken effort to be distinctive by planning vegetable farming. This was intended to practice both by BEd students and school students. Being practical is something great and our students did this through their initiative of distributing the seeds to everyone to transform the words into actions. Their initiative was appreciated by nearby schools since the outcomes of the programme will be highly significant when we consider the health benefits of the initiative.

Title of the programme: Plastic Waste Management

Mode of Presentation: Awareness class, Preparation, demonstration and exhibition (Items: Flower vase, Umbrella Holder, Show piece, Mobile charge carrier, Cup, Plastic Bag Dispenser, Candle stand, Hanging Décor, Pen Stand, Flowers, Gift items, Flower vase with drip bottle)

Beneficiaries: BEd students

Reflections: Increasing awareness about the environment regarding plastic waste management was the objective of the activity. Future generation need to become aware of plastic waste management which is safe and environment-friendly. The combined effort of the students made them more confident and made them cooperative and creative. They could instill a feeling of love towards our environment among their children and also organizational, interpersonal and management skills.

The motto of the year was 'Teacher the initiator' which the students literally proved by their work. The attitude to initiate new things was the crux of the programmes. They tried to intertwine all these programmes to suit the purpose. Deeds are significant than words and our students proved it by using various modes of activity-oriented presentations.
